“The Quest for Rest”

“It’s my prayer that our hearts will be warmed afresh as we listen to this wonderful story. We will be led to the Lord Jesus Christ via the gospel themes of rest, marriage and redemption. I plan to show that Naomi’s story is also ours – and that of the believers we serve – and we will touch on some questions relating to handling of OT narrative. We will be reminded that our kind God is in total control of the (often trying) circumstances we face. And we will be challenged to imitate the sacrificial other-person-centredness of Boaz and Ruth.” JH Hutchinson

Programme

- Bible exposition and ministry addresses to feed on God’s Word together
- Preaching workshops to learn together and help one another ‘rightly handle the Word of Truth’.
- Prayer together for one another in our ministries
- Fellowship and relaxation together, with time off to enjoy the surrounding area

Irish Preachers’ Conference

Monday 7th – Wednesday 9th

January 2013

“The Quest for Rest”

James Hely Hutchinson

On the Book of Ruth

Conference Venue:

The Royal Hotel
Bray
Co. Wicklow

Our aim is to minister to ministers so that they may be refreshed spiritually, stimulated theologically and pastorally, and encouraged in the great task of preaching the unsearchable riches of Christ. To this end we offer Biblical exposition to feed the mind and fire the heart, preaching workshops to help sharpen ourselves as ‘approved workmen’ of the Word, and addresses on key issues at the cutting edge of ministry.

Our fundamental conviction is that when the Bible is taught God’s voice is heard. The main aim of the conference, therefore, is to teach the Bible to teachers in order that they in turn can teach it to others. A further aim is to provide a fellowship of like-minded evangelicals across denominational lines for encouragement in an exacting work.

Is it for Me?

This conference is intended for those with a regular Bible preaching ministry in the Republic of Ireland. It affords an opportunity to be ministered to as well as to work hard together on the task of preaching the Bible. None of us can ‘go it alone’, and fellowship with others across the denominations who share in the struggles of authentic, biblical ministry can be a vital source of strength and encouragement. So, if that is you, we welcome you to join us.

Venue & Cost

•The conference is residential and will be held in The Royal Hotel, Bray, Co. Wicklow from 2pm on Mon 7th until after lunch on Wed 9th January 2013.

•The cost is €190 Euro and is inclusive of all meals and accommodation. There is an early booking fee of €175 up to 30 November.

•We are keen for participants to be there for the whole conference. However, we are offering a non-residential rate of €135 for those who do not require overnight accommodation.

Preaching Workshops

These are a central feature of preaching conferences: we work together in small groups on a book or theme with a small number of others under the leadership of an experienced preacher. The goal is to help one another in our handling and communication of the Bible’s message.

Each workshop will meet three times, and will involve some preparation before the conference: details of this will be sent about a month in advance.
